Call for Presenters

December 4, 2009

The International Association of Law Enforcement Planners (IALEP) will meet for its 2010 Annual Conference at the Hilton in Scottsdale, Arizona. Registration begins on Sunday evening, September 26th with opening ceremonies on Monday morning, September 27th. The Conference closes with a roundtable discussion on Friday morning, October 1st.

IALEP is an international nonprofit organization dedicated to the training, certification, and advancement of professional law enforcement planners. Membership consists of sworn and civilian employees of federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies, domestic and international, public and private.

As planners, supervisors, and administrators at their respective agencies, members are assigned a multitude of responsibilities to enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of police department operations. These include all phases of budgeting and capital planning, product procurement and analysis, research and data collection, grant funding and administration, policy and procedural development, crime analysis, development and implementation of informational systems, project management, needs assessments, and program evaluations.

We invite you to submit a proposal to present at IALEP's 2010 conference. Some of the benefits of being a presenter include:

- Career enhancement through exposure to professionals in your field
- Entrance into training sessions (excluding advanced sessions)
- One night's stay at the hotel for out-of-town speakers

Presenter proposals should include your name, affiliation, and a very brief description of the topic of the presentation. Proposals may be emailed to the bkline@glendaleaz.com.

Being a non-profit group, IALEP does not typically pay an honorarium to its speakers. But do let us know if you need assistance with travel expenses.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me by phone (direct line) at 623-930-3153, FAX 623-931-2103, or email at bkline@glendaleaz.com
